Under the Kilt

The most misunderstood garment in the world is the Kilt. Actually invented by an Englishman, the Kilt was adopted by the Celts in the 15th century. During the 17th century the Kilt was so hated by the English, that any man found wearing a Kilt would be banished from the land for a period of seven years. Since then the Kilt has been worn proudly by all Celts.

At Kelly O'Bryan's we would like to honour the tradition of the Kilt by making it our dress code. As you enjoy your dinner you will observe the servers wearing Kilts created from 8 to 10 meters of material. Our Kilts are handmade in Canada with the limerick tartan being imported from Ireland.

In Scotland each clan has a specific tartan (each with it's own unique design and combination of colours) whereas in Ireland each county has its own tartan. The tartan of Limerick County is worn by all Kelly O'Bryan's staff as it is believed the O'Bryan clan originated from that county.

3. L.A.D.D. - Leprechauns Against Drunk Driving ~ We care about you and your friends... and we still want you to have a great time!!! So if there is a designated driver in your group let us know and they will receive a free non-alcoholic beverage as a token of our appreciation. It's cool to be a designated driver!!!!
4. Irishmen (and women) are not shy. Don't sit there if you need some help, wave or yell like heck. You can rupture an eyebrow trying to make eye contact. Any one of our staff will be happy to help you!

6. We stand behind our products and service 100%. Quality and value will always be our first concern when choosing menu items.
